

For Executives and High-Net Worth Individuals

The worlds of personal and corporate security are inextricably linked to the digital realm and cyber threats. What you buy, where you go, and details about your relationships are often shared on social media. Your utility, voting, and property records are regularly collected and sold on the dark web. Malicious actors use this personal information to target individuals like you.

Protecting yourself, your family, and what's most important to you is increasingly difficult. What is your plan to:

1. Alert you to online chatter that would indicate you are at physical risk - at home or in public?
2. Identify sensitive, confidential or potentially compromising information online - including on social media and in dark web forums?
3. Lower the risk of threats against you and your family by reducing your digital footprint?

Concierge Cyber[®] members now have access to a plan that spans the physical and digital worlds. We can provide the information you need to know where you're vulnerable, to reduce your cyber risk, and help take steps to keep you safe. This service includes:

- Risk assessments for individuals
- Ongoing monitoring of social and traditional media, dark web activity, and forums
- Critical threat alerts
- Monthly threat summary and recommendations
- Risk analysis led by analysts with extensive US intelligence and F500 experience
